

Brief CV

Dr Madhu Bala is the serving President of Indian Society for Radiation Biology. She joined Institute of Nuclear Medicine and Allied Sciences (INMAS), DRDO, Ministry of Defence, as Scientist B, and has risen to the rank of Scientist G and Director of prestigious Defence Institute of Bio-Energy Research (DIBER), DRDO. While at INMAS, Dr Bala has contributed in cancer research and headed a number of projects on biological radioprotection and Radiation Countermeasures. At DIBER her contributions have been in crucial Border Area Development programmes together with Indian Army. She has more than 200 publications in peer reviewed Scientific Journals, authored two books, has eight patents and transferred four technologies to three Indian Multinational firms. She is on the reviewer board of many scientific Journals. Dr Bala is the recipient of prestigious national and international awards and has been a part of bilateral missions.